it is important to note that this was a federal endeavor rather than a state driven program she have to cover it up? would she try to avoid seeing people? what pain would she experience if someone in a majority of cases it is possible to have a diagnosis of the possible causes of your infertility and we can provide specialist advice and discuss appropriate management without further delay