additionally, the government can overcome objections by the family if the postmortem is used for scientific reasons or to prevent an epidemic.